SAINT OF THE WEEK

Bingen is a town beside the river Rhine. Its fame comes from Hildegard, who died there 900 years ago. Hildegard was a visionary, a composer and mystic. she worked to reform religious life, which led to arguments with other leaders. But she was courageous and did not give in: strong and brave to the end. St Hildegard of Bingen, doctor of the church (1098- 1179), patron of musicians and writers: her feast is Thursday, 17 September.

Points to Ponder

Trust God's timing. His clock is never late.
Do what is right, not what is easy.

Have a look at our website

Would you like a sneak preview of the Sunday newsletter? You can view it as early as Friday each week, on our Family of Parishes website (westcorkparishes.ie). You can see this introductory page, as well as each parishes' newsletter.

Maybe you are reading at Mass next Sunday and can't find the readings you will be responsible for? You will find them on the sub-menu on our website also — as well as each weekday Mass readings.

Even though you normally like to go to early Sunday Mass at 9.30 am or 10 am, on occasion you might like to sleep in: where can you find all the local Mass times? They're on our Family of Parishes website, of course, where you will see that we have a Mass as late as 12 noon every single Sunday.

It's no harm to move around and see the masses in the other parishes; as time goes on, and priest numbers decline, we will be doing this more and more.

Enjoy checking out our website often, and thanks to Susan Murphy Wickens and Geraldine McCarthy for all the work they have done to make it as excellent as it is.
